DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

1. The drawings are objected to as failing to comply with 37 CFR 1.84(p)(5) because they include the following reference character(s) not mentioned in the description: 12'. Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d), or amendment to the specification to add the reference character(s) in the description in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(b) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claims 18-33 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over U.S. Patent No. 4,823,445 to Diener in view of U.S. Patent No. 6,315,152 to Kalisz.

Regarding claims 18 and 29, Diener et al discloses a container (C) having an outside surface and an interior and a storage clip for holding an extending tube directly onto an aerosol can. Diener does not disclose the tube being magnetically attracted to the outside surface of the container. Kalisz discloses a tube storage device that is magnetically attached to the container. See column 6 lines 47 to 58. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to substitute the attachment means of Diener with the magnetic attachment means as taught by Kalisz in order to more conveniently store the tube when not in use.

Regarding claim 19, the container of Diener comprises a nozzle (A).

Regarding claim 20, the tube of Diener is constructed and arranged to be coupled to the nozzle.

Regarding claim 21, the container of Diener is an aerosol can under pressure.

Regarding claim 22, the container of Diener as modified by Kalisz would be magnetic to attract the tube.

Regarding claim 23, the tube as modified by Kalisz would be ferromagnetic in order to adhere to the container.

Regarding claims 24 and 31, it is well known in the art that aerosol tubes are flexible as shown in Kalisz. See column 1 line 52.

Regarding claims 25, 26, 30, 32, 33, it is well known to one having ordinary skill in the art to use iron-containing compounds in magnets.

Regarding claims 27 and 28, the tube of both Diener and Kalisz is shorter in length than the length of the cylinder. See Figure 1 of Diener and Figure 3 of Kalisz.

Double Patenting

4. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

5. Claims 18-33 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-11 of U.S. Patent No. 6,659,313 to MacMurdo. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because claims 18-33 of the instant application are broader than the patented claims of 6,659,313.

Conclusion

6. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. U.S. Patent No. 5,178,354 to Engvall discloses a aerosol cylinder having a tube attached.
